

Training Modules List

The modules are designed to address ways of seeing the body, disease states, medicine, and its interconnectedness in a very different manner. They are the foundation of other volumes that are to come, aiming to enhance your existing knowledge and build in you – the reader – the foundation for the new medicine of which you are already a part.

The subject matter inclusive of these platforms, usually 'categorised' – intentionally overlaps, weaves and flows to present a whole picture of how this medical information works as well as how it can be used. These modules/chapters are aimed at development and evolution.

The world is changing dramatically.

Decide WHO you are going to be in it...
